Social Media Policy

The Department of Education and Training has policies in place for the correct usage of social media (email, Facebook, twitter and other forms of communication).

Recent interest in the national news has been directed to inappropriate comments made through social media. Legal action has been commenced over some issues.

Parents and students are reminded the DET Social Media policy states:

Social media provides an opportunity to engage and interact with various audiences in a positive, responsible and non-threatening way.

Comments about students, parents and schools need to be positive. No photos of students can be published without parental permission. Schools have a Media policy consent form to allow schools to publish photos of students.

Any parent or community member needs to direct concerns and issues concerning schools, parents and students to the Principal. Facebook, twitter, etc. is not the place to air comments. Comments can be misinterpreted, damaging and are out there for all to view and comment on.
